

Hermes Fish Company:

Lysteria bacteria found in a smoked cold salmon fillet product

Made of fresh fish in a 200g package

The Hermes Fish Factory notifies that in tests conducted by the Ashkelon District Health Bureau, Lysteria monocytogenes bacteria were detected in smoked salmon fillets made of fresh fish marketed in packages of 200 grams, Barcode: 72900014973213 Production date - 16/01/2019, best by 16/02/2019.

Lysteria monocytogenes is a bacterium that can cause disease in a high-risk population, such as those who have compromised immune systems, the elderly or cause miscarriage in pregnant women.

The company is collecting the product from retailers.

The company advises customers not to consume and return the product. You can return the product and get your money back in coordination with the customer service, Tel 08-6444564

